BACKGROUND

China Banknote Printing and Minting Corporation (CBPM)

CBPM, founded in 1949 and known by this name since 1991, is under the direct leadership of the People's Bank of China. It focuses mainly on the manufacture of China's renminbi ("people's money") in the form of banknotes and circulating coins.

CBPM manages 22 enterprises and one technical centre, including the Shenyang Mint (established 1896), Shanghai Mint (1941), Nanjing Mint (1985) and The Great Wall Gold & Silver Refinery of China (1970) in Sichuan Province.

China Golddeal, established in 2004, is headquartered in Beijing.

It acts on behalf of the China Banknote Printing and Minting Corporation in precious metal business matters.

China Golddeal issued its main range of ounce-denominated gold investment bars in 2007.

The company's distribution network includes commercial banks and over 200 retail shops in 80 cities.

China Golddeal Investment Co Ltd

The company, established by CBPM in 2004, undertakes a range of activities, in addition to the development and distribution of precious metal products. This includes the production and sale of banknote printing derivatives, the licensing of anti-counterfeit label printing and the trading of precious metals internationally.

China Golddeal has the distinction of having been closely associated with the development and issue of precious metal products for the Beijing Olympics (2008), Shanghai World Expo (2010) and the Guangzhou Asian Games (2010).

The range of precious metal bars and medallions, which it issues each year, is extensive. For example, in 2012, it expected to sell in excess of 70 different series of products.

Its retail distribution network has grown rapidly to include commercial banks, 100 franchised shops and 120 other retail shops in 80 cities nationwide.

In 2010, it opened a representative office in Shanghai, followed by others in Shangyang, Shenzhen and Xi'an in 2011.

Number of employees: 160 (China Golddeal), 30,000 (CBPM)
